Heman Allen of Burlington, formerly of Milton.

[5]

Heman Allen withdrew his candidacy before the April 4 election. He was a candidate again by the June 6 election.

[6]

. A major effect on the final fourth district election was the death of Benjamin F. Bailey on May 22, 1832. The 1830 fourth district election was probably a catalyst for a change in the election law in 1832.
